Exhibitor: _____

Judges

Consider each grading factor separately without regard to other factors, thus making a conscious effort to avoid a "halo" effect, or a tendency to give an exhibit high scores in "showmanship" and/or "Education" because it is outstanding in "Rarity."

In an effort to make scoring meaningful, consider starting the scoring with a presumptive number of points. For example, start in the middle of the point range, and then mentally adjust the score downward or upward as appropriate.
