Logan, Utah (Beehive State)

The 2020 NIA National Show & Convention will be held on June 12th - 14th in Logan, Utah. Logan is a small city in Cache Valley, a mountain valley located in the heart of the Rocky Mountains. It's an easy 90 minute drive from Salt Lake City's International Airport. The beautiful agricultural valley is nestled between two majestic mountain ranges and home to Utah State University. Logan is surrounded by several bedroom communities and is a slice of Americana that is like a step back in time. The pace is a little slower with many options for things to do. Attendees and their families can stay as busy or relaxed as they choose. Attendees can easily turn this show into a fantastic summer vacation. In addition to the multitude of things to do in the local area, Cache Valley is only a 4 hour drive to Yellowstone & Teton National Parks and about a 4-5 hour drive to most of Southern Utah's National Parks.

The show and all meetings will be held at the Cache County Fairgrounds Event Center, a new facility completed in 2018. The building features a 20,000 square foot main hall with LED lighting and skylights for natural lighting. Adjacent smaller rooms will facilitate the Board meeting, Membership meeting, etc. The building is air conditioned. There will be plenty of nearby parking. Loading and unloading will be at ground level.

The NIA Awards Banquet will be held at the Riverwoods Conference Center, 1.1 miles from the fairgrounds and adjacent to the Marriott Springhill Suites, our host hotel. There are several other hotels in close proximity to the fairgrounds. There are also RV accommodations at the fairgrounds with WiFi access. Uber, Lyft, taxi and free bus service are all available in the valley.

Since Utah is the "Beehive" state, the "beehive" insulator will be the theme of the show.

Wednesday, June 10th Optional Golden Spike, Northrup Grumman (Thiokol) Rocket Display & Bear River Migratory Bird Refuge Visitors Center Tour:

We are offering an optional tour that will take participants to the Golden Spike National Monument, the Northrup Grumman (formerly Thiokol) Rocket Garden, and the Bear River Migratory Bird Refuge Visitors Center. This bus tour will take about 7 hours, beginning at the host hotel at 9:00 am.

The Golden Spike National Monument will be the first stop where full scale replicas of the two original Central Pacific and Union Pacific locomotives (Jupiter and No. 119) are rolled out for a live demonstration. The original locomotives met in Promontory, Utah on May 10, 1869 when the East and West tracks of the Transcontinental Railroad met. A “golden spike” was driven to commemorate the event. There are replica poles and insulators from the Transcontinental Telegraph on display as well. There is a museum, gift shop, historic presentations, etc.

A short distance away is the Northrup Grumman (formerly Thiokol) solid rocket motor plant with a large full scale display of many of the rocket motors Thiokol has built over the years. The display includes various satellite motors, defensive missiles, a full size Space Shuttle booster motor, etc.

Finally, there will be a stop at the Bear River Migratory Bird Refuge Visitors Center. The visitors center offers interactive exhibits, a wetland diorama and other displays featuring information on birds and wetlands of the Refuge, and a nice gift shop. The Bear River Migratory Bird Refuge is a 74,000-acre National Wildlife Refuge in Utah, established in 1928.

A box lunch will be provided. The cost is $40 per person and includes admission. The tour is limited to the 1st 50 people that sign up. A second bus can be added if there is sufficient interest early enough. A waiting list will be maintained in case of any cancellation.

Thursday, June 11th Optional Tour:

We are also offering an excursion to the center of Salt Lake City where participants can visit historic Temple Square <https://www.templesquare.com/> and/or the City Creek Mall <https://www.shopcitycreekcenter.com/> across the street from Temple Square.

THE 35 ACRES IN AND AROUND TEMPLE SQUARE

Guided tours and presentations feature historic sites, interactive exhibits, art displays, 70-mm films, parks, and gardens. Also featured are the largest genealogy library of its kind in the world and the renowned Mormon Tabernacle Choir and Orchestra at Temple Square. Enjoy all of this in the heart of downtown Salt Lake City. Tours are available in more than 30 languages at some locations. All are free.

Things to do on and around Temple Square include (visitor's center, tabernacle, genealogy library, pioneer museum, etc.) <https://www.templesquare.com/>. There will be a free non-proselyting tour of Temple Square for our group. There are also several other historic buildings in the area. A brochure with a map will be provided when boarding the bus.

The City Creek Mall is unique with a stream flowing through the center and its glass roof that opens on warm sunny days. There are numerous shops and restaurants in the mall. Information will be provided when boarding the bus.

The bus will leave the host hotel at 8:00 am and return around 5:00 pm. Participants will be on their own for lunch at the mall or any of the many restaurants in the area within easy walking distance. The cost is $35 per person. The tour is limited to the 1st 50 people that sign up. A second bus can be added if there is sufficient interest early enough. A waiting list will be maintained in case of any cancellation.

GENERAL RULES OF CONDUCT

All participants shall abide by the NIA Code of Ethics. In particular:

Participants shall not knowingly misrepresent the condition, rarity, or value of insulators or related items they offer for sale or trade.

Imitation and Altered insulators or related items may only be brought onto the show premises if they are PERMANENTLY MARKED or embossed so as to indicate their lack of authenticity. While the NIA Code of Ethics requires Imitation and Altered Insulators to be plainly marked "reproduction" and "fake" respectively, it does not require Questionable Insulators (those which may not be Original Insulators), to be permanently marked. The goal of this rule is to cause a prospective purchaser to easily recognize that an item is a reproduction or fake, or to cause them to question its authenticity. Insulators of questionable authenticity should be represented with candor. If not, a Show Organizer(s) can require a participant to remove the item from a sales table. The decision of the Show Organizer shall be final. NIA Board Members attending a NIA sponsored show will provide active assistance, if requested by a Show Organizer, in resolving violations of the NIA Rules.

All restored and/or repaired items on sales tables must be clearly labeled as such.

All show participants and the attending public shall abide by any site-specific show rules set by the Show Organizer(s) including all applicable State laws, local ordinances, restrictions imposed by the owner of the facility, etc.

Positively no public attendance during show setup hours.

"Aisle dealing" by the attending public is discouraged.

It will not be permissible for dealers to "work the aisles" in any fashion which preempts the opportunities of fellow dealers.

Dealer side shows (spotlights, excessive "cow bell ringing," etc.) shall not be carried to the point of being abusive to fellow dealers and the general public.

Dealers will not sublet portions of their reserved tables without first consulting with the show host and obtaining permission. Dealer packets, novelties, etc. will only be given to the dealer reserving the table, not helpers nor other dealers sharing the table. Anyone using part of a dealer's table must also be a NIA member in good standing.

Participants shall keep aisles in front of tables free of boxes and clutter.

Participants are encouraged to cover their unattended tables.

Dealers should keep their sales tables intact until the end of the published show date and time. There may be exceptions made for those driving long distances or needing to make other travel connections, but advance arrangements should be made with the Show Organizer(s) when reserving the table. The Show Organizer(s) reserves the right to locate such tables on the outer aisles or near exits to avoid disruption of the rest of the show with any early departures. The Show Organizer(s) may announce blanket authority for early takedown at such time as public attendance appears to have ceased.

Participants will be responsible for any damage they do to the facilities with their setup practices (i.e. no signs or other items taped or tacked to walls or furnishings).

The Show Organizer(s) will make every effort to provide good security, but will not be responsible for any loss of participant property due to theft or breakage. Each dealer and exhibitor is asked to help with security by watching after his own items and keeping an eye on adjacent tables.

All National Show dealers, helpers, and exhibitors must be NIA members in good standing. All attendees on any NIA day must be NIA members in good standing.

Dealers are required to pay the appropriate Sales Tax on their sales. A simple form will be provided in each dealer packet that can be filled out and turned into a show host or mailed directly to the State of Utah. This is an update from the more complex information in the printed dealer packets.

The reservation of a table at a NIA sponsored show constitutes the acceptance of these rules and agreement to comply with them.
